

You're Invited to attend a National Cybersecurity Summit Open House

Florida Center for Cybersecurity
at the University of South Florida

The Florida Center for Cybersecurity (FC²) at the University of South Florida, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the United States Secret Service, the Department of Homeland Security, and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement cordially invite you to attend an exclusive open house being held in conjunction with the President's Summit on Cybersecurity and Consumer Protection at Stanford University on February 13, 2015.

Attendees will have the unique opportunity to watch the Summit on Cybersecurity and Consumer Protection live. The Summit will host a variety of speakers including Apple Chief Executive Officer Tim Cook, USSS Deputy Director A.T. Smith, FBI Assistant Director Joseph M. Demarest Jr., and many other major stakeholders on cybersecurity and consumer financial protection issues including senior leaders from across the federal government, Chief Executive Officers from a wide range of industries, law enforcement officials, consumer advocates, and technical experts.

Attendees will also have the opportunity to meet their local Cyber Task Force and Electronic Crimes Task Force representatives, hear about current public-private partnership opportunities, and learn more about how the U.S. government works to identify, pursue, and defeat cyber threats.

Date: Friday, February 13, 2015

Time: Registration is at 12 p.m. and the event will run from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Location: The University of South Florida Muma College of Business: Room BSN1100

Parking: Please park in the USF Sun Dome parking lot.

Cost: The event is free. There will be a fee for parking.

RSVP: Visit usfweb.usf.edu/cybersecurity/open-house/ to RSVP.

